

J.G. Wentworth Phone Contact Policy

By providing your phone number, you give J.G. Wentworth, together with its subsidiaries and affiliates (“JGW”), its Marketplace Partners, and parties contacting on their behalf, your express written consent to contact you by call or text message. These communications may include marketing messages and may be delivered using automated technology such as autodialers, selection systems, robocalls, and prerecorded or artificial voice recordings. Message and data rates may apply, and messaging frequency may vary.

You also consent to initial contact outside of standard state and federal calling hours if made within approximately one hour of your submission. Message frequency may depend on account status.

Consent is not required as a condition of purchase or service, and at any time you may revoke your consent to receive text messages by replying “STOP” to a text message. You may also revoke your consent to text messages, calls, or credit authorization at any time by following our Revocation of Consent Instructions.